Right – so for everyone else, Protective Intel Unit at National Division advised that Personal Info. has indicated she is leaving Ottawa today with a convoy heading east (how far east is unclear). Perso is the woman who claims herself to be the Queen of the Kingdom of Canada, Commander-in-Chief and President of Canada. She also uses Q-Anon references in her social media posts. There's more traffic suggesting that she has no support than suggesting she does.

Having said that, I'm unable to find the reference to her travelling east with a convoy. J Division is going to assist with connecting me to Protective Intel (as they received the info) and we'll see what they're able to provide.

Based on Person comments and approach, I suspect she'll have little support, and will be disconnected from anything properly organized, BUT she could be following a group, much as she did when she arrived in Ottawa from BC, days after the convoy arrived.

10-4, I saw a group was coming from Ontario. Not sure where they are going to set up...

Gents, we received this from the team lead at the Borden testing site. Perhaps you are aware already. We are just about to cross the bridge to see Personal.
